AMEND Senate Bill No. 1662

House Bill No. 1186*

by deleting all language after the enacting clause and by substituting instead the following:

SECTION 1. By October 1, 2007, the department of education's division of special education shall report in writing to the chair of the education committee of the house of representatives and the chair of the senate education committee regarding the following information:

- (1) The number of special education classes by local education agency;
- (2) The number of special education students by local education agency;
- (3) The number of special education teachers by local education agency;
- (4) The number of special education aides by local education agency;
- (5) The number and types of restraints and seclusion utilized over the twelve (12) months following this act's effective date by local education agency;
- (6) The number of local education agencies that provide training in positive behavioral supports; and
- (7) The number of local education agencies that provide training in the appropriate use of restraints and seclusion.

SECTION 2. There is established a study commission on methods of restraint employed on students who receive special education services to study the data compiled by the department of education as required by this act and to make appropriate recommendations. The commission shall report to each member of the general assembly once on its activities, findings, recommendations and proposals. The commission shall consist of seven (7) members. The speaker of the senate shall appoint one (1) member from the general welfare, health, and human resources committee and one (1) member from the education committee. The speaker of the house of representatives shall appoint one (1) member from the health and human resources committee and one (1) member from the education committee. The children and family affairs committee of the house of representatives shall appoint one (1) member to the study committee. One (1) representative shall be appointed by ARC, and one (1) representative shall be appointed by NAMI.

SECTION 3. This act shall take effect July 1, 2007, the public welfare requiring it.
